

Volunteer Videographer

Health Connected provides puberty and sexual health education to young people throughout California and we would like to document our student stories! We are looking for someone with a video camera who can create and edit films for our organization.

We would love to have short films of our staff, educators, students, and parents. Our first project will be a mini-documentary of local young people who became parents as teens, which will be integrated into our comprehensive sexual health programs. Other projects may include filming our programs in the classroom, interviewing staff and students, or creating youth-led sexual health informational videos.

Volunteer may edit films remotely, but filming will take place at various school locations throughout San Mateo County and Santa Clara County. A background check will be required, as this position will be interacting with students. *Spanish is a plus.
